The first interactive webinar of 2020 is now online!

In this webinar, the Office joined forces with the EPO to explore the intricate bundle of technical and non-technical IP rights behind video games. In a rapidly evolving landscape of video game design, development and commercialisation, the what and the how of protecting the IP of video game components can be a challenge.

A recording of the webinar is now available on the Academy Learning Portal, just one click away!
